

Coming March 6, 2019: JACKSON PEARCE

Grady Elementary is excited to announce the visit of nationally acclaimed author Jackson Pearce. (We were fortunate to be able to work out this visit on short notice after the cancellation of our visit with Chris Grabenstein.)

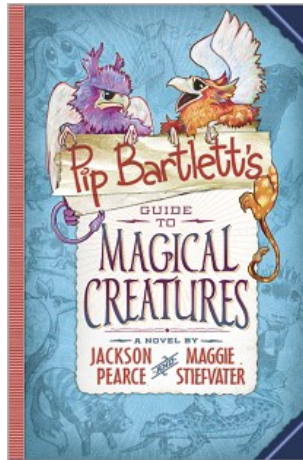

She will be presenting to all students in third through fifth grades. Two of her middle grade books have received nominations in the Sunshine State Young Reader Awards program and have been used in our SLAM & Battle of the Books.

Jackson Pearce currently lives in Atlanta, Georgia, with a slightly cross-eyed cat and a lot of secondhand furniture. She auditioned for the circus once, but didn't make it; other jobs she's had include obituaries writer and receptionist.

Jackson began writing when she got angry that the school librarian couldn't tell her of a book that contained a smart girl, horses, baby animals, and magic. Her solution was to write the book herself when she was twelve. Her parents thought it was cute at first, but have grown steadily more concerned for her ever since.
